McKesson Plasma and Biologics LLC Consignment Program

Want peace of mind? McKesson's Consignment Program provides the on-demand factor and select specialty products you need

For many providers, the high cost of blood factor and specialty products makes stocking them cost-prohibitive. With the McKesson Plasma and Biologics Consignment Program, you have the convenience of purchasing only what you need, when you need it, for a minimal convenience fee. Once products are purchased, they are replenished upon use and exchanged for new products prior to expiration.

Common questionsQ: What is the McKesson Plasma and Biologics Consignment Program?

A: A program that provides McKesson Plasma and Biologics customers with an opportunity to keep a variety of emergency products in their facilities without being held financially responsible for the cost of the inventory until it has been used.

Q: What products are available through the Consignment Program?

A: All hemophilia factor products and a few specialty products including Berinert®, Kcentra®, Crofab® and Praxbind® are available through this program.

Q: Who is eligible for the Consignment Program?
