Improving care. Improving lives.

At McKesson, we’re driven to improve care in every setting — one product, one partner, one patient at a time.

Because, when we improve care, we’re helping to improve lives. And that’s what motivates all 78,000 McKesson employees around the world, every day.
A hospital uses our financial solutions to show an anxious grandmother exactly what she’ll pay for a knee replacement before she schedules the surgery.

A pharmacist reminds a diabetes patient to take his medication because a system we developed with a Life Sciences company triggered an adherence consultation.

We help healthcare providers navigate an evolving landscape to make smarter decisions about business operations and healthcare.

We work with Life Sciences companies to help develop and deliver advanced medical treatments that lead to improved care and outcomes.

We deliver better health to the four major segments of healthcare.

In one minute, McKesson will make better health possible for millions of patients. At the same time.

We support the missions of pharmacies by expanding the range of medical supplies and services they can offer customers.

We provide pharmaceutical distribution services that are customizable and scalable for hospitals and health systems of all types and sizes, from small rural facilities to academic medical centers to multi-site integrated delivery networks.

A father uses our mobile app to refill his son’s asthma medication so he can pick it up at his local independent pharmacy on the way home.

An accident victim avoids daily visits to the clinic for wound care supplies because we deliver directly to her house.
