

5 Considerations to Adapt to and Prepare for 340B Changes

Ensure You're Meeting the Standards

Double check to make sure you are eligible to access 340B pricing for your contract pharmacy.

Know Your Numbers

Monitor and track 340B cost and revenue changes monthly. Also, consider having your third-party administrator track eligible prescriptions and accumulations.

Ask the Necessary Questions

The opportunity to gain exceptions is worth exploring. Tell your manufacturer what you'd like to do and ask if this applies to your health system. Keep the questions coming, as they could potentially bring change to some manufacturers' policies and practices.

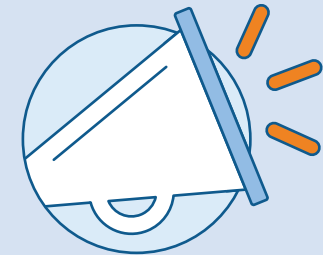

Perform a Self-Audit

Review your individual contract pharmacy accounts to gain an understanding of what your 340B software vendor is doing on behalf of your health system. Look for inconsistencies so you can safeguard yourself against missing significant opportunities.

Keep the Lines of Communication Open

Communicate openly. If applicable, understand business pressures on your contract pharmacies. There's a benefit to them as well.

Click here if you have more questions about navigating 340B complexities.